

Construction (Design & Management) Regulations 2007

Course Overview

To provide all parties involved in construction with an understanding of the new CDM Regulations 2007 and the practicalities of its application. The briefing is designed to give delegates an overview of the legal framework and its relationship to construction activities.

Course Objectives

By the end of the course delegates will be able to:

- Be able to demonstrate an understanding of the duty holders legal responsibilities
- Show an understanding and awareness of the principal changes and reasons, the new approach to be adopted and the regulations, with respect to content and its implementation
- Evaluate the competency of the persons that have been appointed and the company's liabilities relating to them
- Understand the necessity for resource and the availability of information, to aid compliance with statutory duties

Course Content

- The HSE's holistic approach to CDM - An understanding of the general principles and philosophy of CDM
- Interpretation and application of the regulations and ACoP
- The background and requirements for the new regulations including changes and emphasis
- Duties, roles and responsibilities covered by CDM Regulations 2007
- Achieving compliance
- Principles of prevention
- ACoP competence and training
- Selection and control of contractors competence
- Pre-construction information
- Communication & co-operation on site

Who Should Attend

This briefing is aimed at any person(s) who is involved in construction work or any person(s) requiring an update of the CDM Regulations 2007

Number of Candidates per Course

12

Course Outcome

Anglia Risk Solutions - Certificate of Attendance

Related Courses

Site Management Safety Training Scheme (SMSTS)

Site Supervisor's Safety Training Scheme (SSSTS)